NeoSystems Announces Partner Agreement with Aptify;

Agreement Enables Customized Rapid Application Development and Expanded Capabilities in Nonprofit Sector;

Reflects NeoSystems' Commitment to Consistent Innovation and Best-in-Class Software Offerings to Meet Clients' Needs

Vienna, Virginia/July 27, 2010 – NeoSystems Corp. today announced it has entered into an agreement with Aptify, developers of Aptify RAD, which will benefit NeoSystems' clients and position the firm for continued growth. NeoSystems provides accounting, financial management, and compliance services for government contractors and nonprofit organizations, using a flexible approach, highly experienced staff and best-in-class software applications to help them meet rigorous and changing statutory requirements.

Aptify's comprehensive Rapid Application Development (RAD) Platform accelerates and reduces the cost of developing, deploying, and maintaining database driven applications. With Aptify RAD, which automates software application development, companies can easily and quickly develop applications that will augment or replace their existing back-office systems. Through an intuitive developmental interface, functional users can also be empowered to participate in the application development effort.

With Aptify's RAD Platform, NeoSystems now has technology to address more unique, back-office needs of clients across multiple industry sectors. Further, these technology tools will enhance the performance of accounting and related tasks.

Michael Tinsley, founder and CEO of NeoSystems said, "NeoSystems has continually delivered successful technology innovations to the market, coupled with exceptional service and support. We look forward to closely working with Aptify RAD so that we can build applications that address the needs of our clients enabling them to better accomplish their missions and business plans. Furthermore, Aptify RAD may also be used by our clients who hold contracts to develop applications for their customers, employing this powerful software tool within their own development efforts."

Amith Nagarajan, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Aptify said, “Both NeoSystems and Aptify have long and proven track records of helping organizations operate more efficiently. Together we offer significant opportunity for enterprises to leverage software technologies that will enhance growth and reduce costs. We expect to continue to build on these compelling values through our continuing commitment to innovation and excellence.”
