NeoSystems Corp. Announces Senior-Level Appointments

Vienna, Virginia/June 22, 2010 – NeoSystems Corp., a firm which specializes in accounting, financial and contract management to government contractors and nonprofit organizations, today announced three senior-level appointments.

Kara Harrod has been named as Director of New Product Integration. She will coordinate product customization, implementation, customer roll-out, and user support functions for all products. This includes a Policy & Procedure Management Tool, a Document Management & Workflow System, a Contract Management Tool, Dashboards and a file sharing tool that allows clients to access and save information while using rigorous standards and protocols for security and privacy.

Prior to joining NeoSystems, Ms. Harrod served as a Systems Engineer at Deltek, Inc. She provided leadership in educating clients and fellow employees to become proficient in their use of software products, particularly Deltek's GCS Premier and Time Collection. This was accomplished through in-person meetings, classroom presentations, and the development of training manuals. She will be responsible for managing the firm's efforts to integrate these new products with the Deltek suite of software applications and introduce their use throughout the firm's customer base.

Miriam Kaffke has been named NeoSystems' Human Resources Director. She formerly served as a senior human resources specialist at Booz Allen Hamilton. For 15 years Ms. Kaffke has helped established and start-up companies to succeed by collaborating with executives to develop innovative organizational strategies that maximize human performance and improve employee relations.

James Henriksen has been named Vice President, Client Services. He has 25 years of government contract experience, including 16 years of accounting management. Through NeoSystems' Managed Services Provider (MSP) program, Mr. Henriksen helps clients to track and accelerate client productivity, resulting in improved decision making, more efficient operations, and the opportunity to secure new business.

Commenting on the appointments, Michael Tinsley, President and Founder of NeoSystems said, “Kara, Miriam, and Jim are very highly skilled and effective professionals and we are pleased to welcome them to NeoSystems. Through their hard work and commitment to client service and problem solving, each of them will play an important role in assisting our clients as they face challenging accounting, financial management, and related compliance challenges. The new products being introduced into our service offering will allow our clients to achieve greater automation, transparency and productivity across their organizations.”

Based in Vienna, Virginia, NeoSystems Corp. (www.neosystemscorp.com) is an employee-owned Managed Service Provider that specializes in accounting and financial management services. It provides full-scope, on-site managed services to a wide array of publicly held and privately owned government contractors and nonprofit organizations, providing them with both best-in-class software applications and experienced personnel.

Because of its focus and expertise, NeoSystems typically saves clients 30 percent on their accounting costs. Clients avoid all capital investment in software and hardware infrastructure utilizing the NeoSystems managed service offerings but gain use of the same software applications used by the largest organizations. As a specialty firm, NeoSystems is also on top of new accounting rules and regulations, helping organizations comply with requirements so they can focus on growing their enterprises.
